

BC3 Children's Center Recognized

5/1/2015

The Butler County Community College Children's Creative Learning Center is receiving an award today.

The Bright Star Award for the 3rd Quarter of the 2014-15 state fiscal year will be presented at 10 a.m. Friday by officials from the Northwest Institute of Research and the Early Childhood Education faculty of Clarion University.

The BC3 Center was nominated for the award for providing a safe place to live and learn, with access to healthcare, adequate clothing and nutritious food. It was also nominated for providing creative play and physical activities.

The Bright Star award is a quality recognition program for Keystone STARS sites in 22 counties of the northwest region.
